HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1917.

VOL. 39 - No. 28

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Third Kentucky Regiment is due to arrive in Louisville to-day to be mustered out.

Kansas coal miners have threatened to strike if they can't get beer under the new law.

Japan's repudiation of the German intrigue overtures has made friends for the Japs all over the United States.

We are willing to concede the food gamblers a corner in one commodity if the other trusts are "busted." Onions' instance. They are strong enough to take care of themselves and besides we don't eat 'em.

Commissioner Hartigan, of New York, claims to have saved the people of the city $500,000 by breaking the potato corner. Orders sent to Western States and an organized boycott pending the arrival of shipments, caused an abnormal decline in an effort to unload.

"Uncle" Alex Messer, aged 81, a renowned feudist of Rowan county, went on the warpath the other day and was arrested in Morehead flourishing a big pistol with nine notches on its stock, one for every man the old fellow had killed. He was sent to the Lexington State Hospital.

The Iowa Attorney General has forbidden newspapers to print cuts of the American flag at the head of their editorial columns or at any other place, holding that it violates the Federal law. The statute provides that no flag or representation of a flag shall be printed or stamped on any article of merchandise.

Zimmerman does not deny the note with his name to it, but both Mexico and Japan deny that they were approached. Some mighty fine work was done in getting hold of the treacherous document so promptly. The Germans are worrying more about that feature of the exposure than any other. The President is still guarding the source of his timely information.

Germans are deriving consolation from their retreat from their first lines in Northern France in the fact that they have reached new lines on high ground, leaving the British a line of wrecked trenches in low muddy ground. They also boast that they destroyed all possible places of shelter, razed the villages and filled the wells supplying water.

The Dutch papers are raising a great to-do over the fact that Queen Wilhelmina attended an ice carnival last week and actually skated while her ships were being torpedoed by the Kaiser. One critic thought it was like Nero fiddling while Rome burned. Why should the Dutch be so stupid? Didn't our President play golf about the same time? It shows that the Queen is not panicky. It takes a calm temperament and a steady nerve to skate, especially on thin ice.

Five Democrats led by Stone, of Missouri, acting with 7 Republicans led by La Follette, in the closing hours of the Senate, defied the opinions of the entire House excepting 3 members and 84 of the 96 Senators and with a humiliating display of disloyalty to their country defeated the amended neutrality bill, the army appropriation bill and other appropriations necessary to carry on the government in its civil capacity. These men bring a session of congress to its constitutional close in the midst of a world war without providing one dollar for the support of the army of this nation. They tie the hands of the President while a foreign power is murdering American women and citizens and seeking to drive American commerce from the high seas. The President is right. Men of this character ought not to be allowed to defeat public measures and disgrace the country and at the same time encourage Germany to continue her insults under the delusion that the country is divided. Let the Senate revise its rules and sit down upon such recalcitrants and if can be done expel them from their seats.

FOUR YEARS MORE FOR PRES. WOODROW WILSON

President Sworn in At Noon in Capitol by Chief Justice White--Members of Official Family Only Present at Ceremony.

IMMENSE CROWD ATTENDED PARADE

Troops Were Stationed Along Streets to Keep The Spectators Back From Parade--Bad Weather Continued to Dim Washington Decorations.

Washington, March 5.—President Wilson took the oath of office for his second term at noon Sunday in his room at the Capitol and was formally inaugurated today with public ceremonies reflecting a great national expression of Americanism.

Before a desk piled with executive business laid before him in the closing hours of Congress, and surrounded by members of his official family, the President reaffirmed with uplifted hand and grave features, his promise to uphold the Constitution in whatever crisis may confront the nation in the momentous four years before it.

After he had repeated solemnly the oath taken first by Washington a century and a quarter ago, he kissed the Bible at the passage reading:

"The Lord is our refuge, a very present help in time of trouble."

Chief Justice White administered the oath and was the first to extend his congratulations. Wringing the President's hand, the Chief Justice looked fervently into his face for a moment and said brokenly:

"Mr. President, I am very, very happy."

The capitol was filled with thousands from all over the country, drawn by the event. The public inauguration was not inferior in general character from the usual ceremony.

As customary, the President after he had taken the oath, delivered his inaugural address on an open air stand before the capitol, and rode then back to the White House at the head of a parade of many thousands, including the distinguished of the land, military and naval organizations and a long line of delegations of private

GERMANS WERE DRIVEN BACK

Retirement at Ancre Matter of Necessity--Russians Gain In Persian Theater.

FOURTEEN MONTHS' TOLL

Germany Reports Ships Sunk In Mediterranean Including Biggest One of War.

Again the British have advanced their front on the right and left wings in the Commune and Ancre regions of France. On the left flank, east of Gommecourt, the Germans gave up ground over a front of two miles to an average depth of 1200 yards, while the right flank, east of Bouchavesnes, gave the British the terrain on a front of 1200 yards and 173 prisoners, according to the London war office. Heavy casualties were inflicted upon the Germans in several counter-attacks.

The recent retreat of the Germans in the Ancre was not carried out for strategical reasons, but on account of necessity, according to a staff correspondent of the associated press.

FIGHTING ALONG THE MEUSE.

In the Meuse district, the Germans north of Eix in an attack preceded by a heavy bombardment, succeeded in entering French trenches but were driven out in a counter-attack. Reciprocal bombardments, especially severe east of the Meuse in the Bois Cauriers sector, have taken place.

Along the Russian front and in Rumania no fighting of moment is taking place.

In the Austro-Italian territory an attempt to storm Italian positions east of Gorizia was frustrated, according to Rome. Minor infantry operations and artillery duels continue on the other sectors of the front.

The capture of Hamadan in Persia, slightly more than 100 miles from the Mesopotamian border, was officially announced by the war office. The town was taken from the Turks on March 2.

Russian troops also are on the offensive further northwest, and have captured a village within two miles of Bijar, 80 miles northwest of Hamadan and about the same distance from the border.

A British destroyer was sunk with all hands in the North sea on Thursday, the admiralty announces. It is believed she struck a mine, the announcement states.

Berlin announces the sinking of an armed transport steamer of 34,494 tons with about 500 colonial troops, artillery and horses on board, was sunk by a German submarine in the Mediterranean on Feb. 24. Some of the troops on board were lost. Also a 5,000 ton troop laden transport Feb. 23 and a 9,000 tons transport under escort Feb. 17. Thirteen steamers were sunk in the Mediterranean totaling 25,166 tons.

GETTING READY.

Capt. Lee Howell and other freight agents of the L. & N. Railroad will be in Pembroke March 14 to confer with S. A. Powell in regard to shipping the strawberry crop of the Pembroke Association growers, who are starting with 120 acres.

Hopkinsville a Winner.

Hopkinsville defeated Bowling Green's crack team of bowlers in a match game played here Friday night. Another game between the two teams will be played at Bowling Green next Friday night.

Rode Like King George.

Maj. E. R. Helberg, American military attaché at Rome, was thrown from a horse and killed while riding on the Italian front.

Warren County Sale.

At Bowling Green Saturday, John Sweeney sold a lot of Duroc Jerseys at an average of $94.98 a head.

CONGRESS DID NOT VOTE ON ARMED NEUTRALITY

Twelve Senators Succeed in Filibuster to Prevent Action---Twenty-Six Members Sign Manifesto Asserting They Favored the Measure.

FIVE DEMOCRATS BETRAY PRESIDENT

Take Their Revenge by Preventing LaFollette from Delivering His Carefully Prepared Speech--His Unspoken Diatribe Effectually Bottled Up and Kept Out.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—About twelve senators, led by Senator La Follette, and encouraged by Senator Stone in a filibuster denounced by President Wilson's spokesmen as "the most reprehensible in the history of any civilized Nation," defied the will of an overwhelming majority in congress up to the last minute Sunday and denied to the President a law authorizing him to arm merchant ships to meet the German submarine menace. Unyielding throughout twenty-six hours of continuous session to appeals that their defiance of the president would be humiliating to the country; uncompromising in a crisis described to them as the most serious to the nation since the civil war, La Follette and his small group of supporters refused a majority of their colleagues an opportunity to vote on the armed neutrality bill and it died with the Sixty-fourth congress at noon.

The recent retreat of the Germans in the Ancre was not carried out for strategical reasons, but on account of necessity, according to a staff correspondent of the associated press.

IN THE MEUSE DISTRICT, THE GERMANS IN AN ATTACK PRECEDED BY A HEAVY BOMBARDMENT, SUCCEEDED IN ENTERING FRENCH TRENCHES BUT WERE DRIVEN OUT IN A COUNTER-ATTACK. RECIPROCAL BOMBARDMENTS, ESPECIALLY SEVERE EAST OF THE MEUSE IN THE BOIS CAURIERS SECTOR, HAVE TAKEN PLACE.

ALONG THE RUSSIAN FRONT AND IN RUMANIA NO FIGHTING OF MOMENT IS TAKING PLACE.

IN THE AUSTRO-ITALIAN TERRITORY AN ATTEMPT TO STORM ITALIAN POSITIONS EAST OF GORIZIA WAS FRUSTRATED, ACCORDING TO ROME. MINOR INFANTRY OPERATIONS AND ARTILLERY DUELS CONTINUE ON THE OTHER SECTORS OF THE FRONT.

THE CAPTURE OF HAMADAN IN PERSIA, SLIGHTLY MORE THAN 100 MILES FROM THE MESOPOTAMIAN BORDER, WAS OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED BY THE WAR OFFICE. THE TOWN WAS TAKEN FROM THE TURKS ON MARCH 2.

RUSSIAN TROOPS ALSO ARE ON THE OFFENSIVE FURTHER NORTHWEST, AND HAVE CAPTURED A VILLAGE WITHIN TWO MILES OF BIJAR, 80 MILES NORTHWEST OF HAMADAN AND ABOUT THE SAME DISTANCE FROM THE BORDER.

THE MAJORITY OF UNITED STATES SENATORS FAVORED THE PASSAGE OF THE SENATE BILL AUTHORIZING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES TO ARM AMERICAN MERCHANT VESSELS, A SIMILAR BILL HAVING ALREADY PASSED THE HOUSE BY A VOTE OF 403 TO 13. TUESDAY, MARCH 6

The German Emperor is confined to his room with a severe chill, but the report adds that his condition does not cause anxiety.

The Lewisburg Leader says eggs are selling for 25 cents a dozen, and butter at 30 cents a pound, while spring chickens are 14 cents. Lewisburg is evidently making a bid for wholesale immigration.

Mexico's "lost provinces" of nearly 1,000,000 square miles amount to more than the Mexico to-day. They comprise eight or ten populous states, but the three border states alone can "recover" Mexico if Uncle Sam says
the word.

Viscount Motono, Japan's foreign minister, says he considers Zimmer-man's idea ridiculous, it being based on the outrageous presumption that Japan would abandon her allies. If Mexico received the proposal, Viscount Motono added, that country showed intelligence in not transmitting it to Japan.

One of our exchanges with more wisdom than the rest of us gives this advice:

"In the way of economy we would advise that in buying seed Irish potatoes, only the peeling containing eyes be planted and the potato eaten.
Make the peeling thick so as to not injure the eyes, and you will thereby make the seed potato do double duty."

Carranza and his German minister Zubaran both refuse to talk about the Zimmerman note; the German minister to Mexico, von Eckhardt, after a weak denial refused to make any further statement, and the Japanese officials state with emphasis that the proposition never got to them, which is probably true. The negotiations apparently never got beyond a German connivance with Carranza, whose enmity for the United States caused him to repudiate an agreement made by his own commissioners.

In this glorious climate of Southern Kentucky, when we have had no snow for a month it is interesting to read this tale of woe in the Louisville Times of March 2: "Slightly more than two inches of new snow was added during the forenoon to-day to that remaining on the ground from the nine inch fall of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. More snow or rain is predicted for to-night and Saturday in the forecast issued today. A minimum temperature tonight of about freezing is expected."

Negotiations looking to China's entrance into the war against the central powers now are in progress at Peking and in all the Entente capitals, and their success depends only upon the harmonizing of the reward to be given China with the amount of co-operation demanded of her. It is regarded as practically certain that China will sever relations with Germany and a declaration of war probably will follow if the Entente will guarantee satisfactory relaxation of the restrictions imposed on the eastern empire by the world powers after the Boxer troubles.

GATHERING DATA.Preliminary Figures of 1916
Wood Pulp Production.

Washington, March, 2.—Returns from 160 woodpulp mills throughout the country, received in connection with the census of pulp-wood consumption and wood-pulp production being made by the Forest Service in co-operation with Newsprint Manufacturers' Association, show that the reporting mills used in 1916 3,419,000 cords of wood and had an output of approximately 2,220,000 tons of pulp.
It is expected by the middle of March reports from practically all of the mills in the country operating in 1916 will have been received. Complete figures are to be made public as soon as the remaining mills have been heard from.

Of the total production of wood pulp thus far reported 975,329 tons was made by the mechanical process, 892,110 tons by the sulphite process,
314,085 by the soda process, and 49,- 053 by the sulphite process.

No figures on pulp-wood and wood-pulp consumption have been compiled by the Forest Service since 1911, and it is expected that the present census will reveal a number of changes both as to amounts and kinds of wood used. It is stated that the higher stumpage values and the decreasing supplies of spruce and hemlock, as well as improved methods of manufacturer, have caused pulp makers to use increasing quantities of other woods.

The final report of the census by the Forest Service will show by States the number of cords of each kind of wood going into each of the four processes of pulp-making, as well as the average cost of the wood in the rough, peeled or rossed stage. Figures showing the production of each kind of wood-pulp and the average value per ton at the mill will also be given.

Something Nice For Supper.

Here is a nice supper dish I made from the remnants of a roast of beef:
Chop or cut fine all the lean beef and mince an onion fine. Put into a baking dish and cover with the leftover gravy. Cook in oven about three-quarters of an hour. Have hot mashed potatoes ready, remove dish from oven and spread mashed potatoes over top.

Well season and return to oven to brown. I served this dish one night last week with hot biscuits, apple sauce, doughnuts, pickles and tea.
Advertainment.

Turkish Dish.

Stew one cupful of cold lamb with one teaspoonful of minced onion in one cupful of water until very tender.
Skim out the meat and add to the water enough strained tomato to make one pint, or use more water if you have not enough of the tomato. Season highly with salt and pepper and a little curry or chutney sauce.

Cafe Mousse.

Whip one pint of heavy cream and add one-half cupful of powdered sugar. Next add one cupful of black coffee infusion and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Turn the mixture into a mold, pack in ice and let stand for five hours.

Baptist Dip.

Roll light dough very thin; cut with small biscuit cutter, or in squares with a knife. Fry in hot lard until light brown. Place in colander to remove fat. Prepare milk or cream gravy, as for common toast.

Handy Sewing Basket.

To make a handy sewing basket cover a square or an oblong peach basket or any cardboard box with cretonne and line with contrasting linen; sew in pockets for necessary articles needed for sewing.

Ada's Hoptoads.

Very nice for breakfast with coffee.
One cupful sour milk, one egg, one-half teaspoonful salt, one of soda and flour enough to make a stiff batter; drop from spoon into hot lard and fry.

Restoring Color.

When the color has been taken out of black goods it may be restored by the application of liquid ammonia.

Cheap Rice Pudding.

Put three tablespoonsfuls of rice into a double boiler with one cupful of cold water. Boil one-half hour, then put in three cupfuls of milk and boil until soft. Stir with a silver fork so as not to break the rice. When done take off, beat the yolk of one egg and stir into the rice. The heat of the rice will cook the egg enough. Then turn into the dish you are going to serve it in and take two tablespoonsfuls of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of nutmeg or cassia and mix together.
Sprinkle over the top of the pudding then put a small piece of butter on here and there. The hot pudding will melt the butter, forming a brown frosting over the top.

Dutch Peach Pie.

Drain liquor from a can of peaches.
Cut them into eighths and set to drain
while making crust.

One pint of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, two and one-half teaspoon-fuls of baking powder, one beaten egg, one cupful of milk.

Put dough in pan and press peaches in top of layer. Sprinkle with sugar and add a little butter. Serve with peach juice or whipped cream.

To Prevent Fading.

When washing colored gingham,
muslins, etc., soak in cold salt water, then wash in strong suds made by dissolving white soap in warm water.
Wash quickly, rinse in cold water and dry in the shade. In this way the color will not fade.

Best Way to Wash Lace.

Squeeze the lace first in hot water,
then in cold. To stiffen dip it in milk;
it should be pressed on a well-padded board, on the wrong side, with a fairly hot iron.

CLARK SECONDIN RICHES*Copper King Believed To Be Overhauling Rockefeller.

Butte, Mont.—Is W. A. Clark, mine
king and former Senator from Montana, overhauling John D. as the richest man in America?

That's the word out here.

War prices on metals have enormously increased Clark's already fabulous income.

And the difference between Clark and Rockefeller and other American money monarchs is that Clark's vast holdings are practically in his own name and that of his family.

His intimates here say he could raise $100,000,000 in cash in 24 hours out of his own storehouse of wealth, and that he is probably the only man in the United States who can.

III RICH ARIZONA MINE.

United Verde, the Arizona copper mine, for which Clark recently refused $75,000,000, is alone paying him a monthly divided of $2,000,000.

His Butte properties, though comparatively small, also yield him enormous sums.

Aside from the $50,000,000 loan he made France, the adopted land of his children, Clark has $20,000,000 loose change he doesn't know what to do with all the ore actually in sight."

WORTH A STAGGERING SUM.

When, at 10 cents per pound, the actual ore bulked to the staggering figure of $60,000,000, the syndicate engineers threw up their hands. And copper is today selling around 35 cents per pound.

Clark has a $15,000,000 home on Fifth avenue, a $10,000,000 chateau in Paris, where his children live, another palace in Los Angeles and the old home here in Butte.

In New York the brass trust wanted to hold him up on $1,000,000 fixtures for his Fifth avenue home, so Clark started a foundry of his own just for that purpose.

Starting as a bull-team driver, a vendor of spices and baking powders here in the early days, he got in on the first whack at the "billion-dollar hill" at Butte.

To-day, at 76, he has mines in Montana, Arizona, California, Michigan, owns the Salt Lake line from Butte to Los Angeles, has oil properties in Wyoming—in fact, owns tremendous properties in nearly every State.

Every night he knows just what has happened during the day on all his holdings. He gets reports from them all—a bushel basket of telegrams every night at the New York offices.

POLITICS COST HIM MILLIONS.

His political fights in Montana—and they have been on the theory that might makes right—has cost this super-rich man millions.

It is from these political battles that Clark says he has learned the philosophy in which he today ascribes his remarkable energy and unfailing business acumen. "I have learned to never worry," he asserts, "to conserve my energies. The result is that I sleep like a child."

Advantages of a Hobby.

A hobby—not a bad habit—keeps you from becoming "set" in your ways. It keeps you from becoming mossy and mean and sour. Like a piece of machinery that needs rest at times, the great brain workers and the great masters of men always have some little hobby for their leisure hours.

PERUNA

No other remedy ever offered the American people has more friends after two generations of success; no other remedy is more generally used in the homes of the people; no other has been so enthusiastically endorsed by the thousands.

The reason is found in real merit. For coughs, colds, catarrh, whether local or systemic, and general debility following any of the above diseases, PERUNA is the most effective, reliable and safe. For irregular heart action, impaired digestion and run-down system it is equivalent to none.

Peruna may be obtained in tablet form for convenience.

The Rebel Yell.

We rescue from the Associated Press dispatches the following incident in the debate in the house on the armed neutrality resolution. One of the two members to speak in opposition had just concluded:

Representative Stedman, of North Carolina, a confederate veteran answered them with an appeal to patriotism.

"This house ought to send a message to all nations," he declared, "that it will protect its rights, the lives of its people and the American flag in its pristine splendor wherever it may float over land or sea."

The "rebel yell" resounded through the chamber as he concluded.

No nobler sound has ever been heard than that rebel yell in the house of representatives. It showed that the old sectionalism had disappeared and that the element which made for disunion a half century ago had been fused into patriotic Americanism.—Evansville Courier.

Busy Saturdays.

The closing of the banks at noon on Saturdays makes the banks the busiest places in the city during the three hours that they are open for business in the forenoons. Shortly before noon last Saturday there were 86 people waiting to be waited on in the four banks at one time. A number of the merchants practically do a banking business by cashing checks and making change for the public, after the banks close. But for this, the heavy volume of cash business on the week's busiest day could not be transacted.

Paralytic Patient.

John Crouch, of McCracken county, died at the Western State Hospital Sunday of general paralysis of the insane, aged 78 years. He was committed to the institution about three weeks ago. The body was interred in Riverside Cemetery yesterday.

Exonerated.

Herbert Blakey, of Beattyville, who was arrested in Lexington as a deserter from the Second Kentucky regiment because he had overstayed his leave of absence has been exonerated by the War Department.

WHISTLING "DIXIE"

Wife of Madisonville Congressman Aids in Closing Festivities.

Washington, Mar. 5.—As Speaker Clark's gavel dropped promptly at noon, members of the house and press gallery who previously had been supplied with books of old fashioned songs, burst into "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." Mrs. J. Carter Linnicium, wife of Representative Linnicium, of Maryland, rose in the gallery and unfurled a huge silken flag, one end of which was gathered up by Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker.

A storm of applause followed. In another part of the gallery Miss Leona Sherwood, daughter of Representative Sherwood, sang the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. David H. Kinchloe, wife of Representative Kinchloe, of Kentucky, whistled "Dixie," with help from the crowd. "How Dry I Am," was sung with particular feeling by "wets" who were so overwhelmingly defeated in the last congress, followed.

The arrival of a body of a New York national guardsmen in uniform on the floor created a patriotic outburst.

In tribute to the late Representative Courvoisier, who died Friday, who for many years led the singing on the floor, Representative Gallivan sang "The Vacant Chair."

Way to Break a Habit.

Has your little girl formed the nail-biting habit? If so, try the plan of one mother who believed in kindness rather than harshness. Her little girl was most anxious to possess a certain doll which she saw in a toy shop. The mother promised it to her on condition that she would stop biting her nails.

She told the child that whenever she forgot herself the doll would disappear for a day. The idea worked beautifully. There were days when the doll was locked away, but in time the habit was entirely broken and the doll was ever present.—Exchange.

Clark Stevens, aged 65, was struck by an L. & N. train, at Gracey, shortly after noon Saturday and so badly injured that he died in five minutes, soon after he was picked up and carried into a store. He was deaf and did not hear the approaching train, which whistled for him to keep off the track. He stepped from the siding on which he was walking to the main track, when the train struck him and knocked him off with such force that he was killed. Six inches more and he would have been missed.

Mr. Stevens lived with his son, a section hand on the road at Gracey. An inquest was held and the verdict was accidental death. The body was buried in the Lander burying ground yesterday.

Very Brave.

Percy Willard—"You need not fear tramps or rough men when you are with me, darling. I'm a champion runner, and if we were attacked I'd run off and bring help to you in no time."

Yorkshire Parkin.

One and three-fourths pounds of flour, one pound of oatmeal, four ounces of butter, two cupfuls of molasses, one cupful of milk, six teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one dessert spoonful of ginger, ground. Mix the dry ingredients well together, warm the molasses with the milk. Do not make it hot, and mix the whole together. Bake in a well buttered tin for one hour. Of course you know this is better when allowed to stand for a few days. I always think it seems to soften up some.

Cream Puffs.

One cupful of water and one-half cupful of butter; boil together; while boiling stir in one cupful sifted flour; remove from fire and stir into a smooth paste. When cool add three unbeaten eggs, stirring five minutes. Drop in spoonfuls on buttered tins and bake in a quick oven 25 minutes. For cream take one cupful of milk, one-half cupful of sugar, one egg, three tablespoonfuls of flour, cook thoroughly and flavor. When the puffs are cold open and fill with cream.

Use for Broken Cups.

Teacups with broken handles are very useful for poaching eggs. Butter the inside, break the egg into the cup and stand the cup in the frying pan half filled with water. It keeps the egg in good shape when poached, easy to slip on to toast and is cleaner than poaching in a frying pan.

C. F. COBB FINDS BODY

John Goodall's Body Taken From The River Sunday Morning.

COBB GETS $30 REWARD

Found At The Foot Of Fifth Street When The Water Went Down.

The body of John Goodall, colored, who was drowned at Second Street Friday about noon, was recovered from the river between 9 and 10 o'clock Sunday morning by C. F. Cobb, a white man who was searching the river, which had fallen considerably, in a skiff. He saw the man's hand protruding from the water close to where the horse and express wagon were taken from the river Friday evening, at the foot of 5th street. He recovered the body unassisted without difficulty after it was located.

A reward of $30 had been offered, $10 by the city, $10 by the county and $10 by colored people. This will be paid to Cobb. Goodall had been swept down probably with his wagon, before his struggles ended where the wagon was lodged. The body was taken to King's colored undertaking establishment, where it was awaiting an inquest yesterday afternoon, in the absence of Coroner Wright. There were two John Goodalls in the city. The one drowned was the younger, a man about 40 years of age.

IN SIX INCHES OF SAFETY

When Hit By An L. & N. Train At Gracey and Killed.

Clark Stevens, aged 65, was struck by an L. & N. train, at Gracey, shortly after noon Saturday and so badly injured that he died in five minutes, soon after he was picked up and carried into a store. He was deaf and did not hear the approaching train, which whistled for him to keep off the track. He stepped from the siding on which he was walking to the main track, when the train struck him and knocked him off with such force that he was killed. Six inches more and he would have been missed.

Mr. Stevens lived with his son, a section hand on the road at Gracey. An inquest was held and the verdict was accidental death. The body was buried in the Lander burying ground yesterday.

Percy Willard—"You need not fear tramps or rough men when you are with me, darling. I'm a champion runner, and if we were attacked I'd run off and bring help to you in no time."

Arthur Howell—"What did you say his name was?"

The man opened the magazine which he held in his hand.

"Here is something which might interest you," he said. "Look on page ninety-five."

She turned to the place indicated, and there, in big black type she read the name Arthur Howell.

"Why," she gasped, "he has written a story."

"Yes," the man spoke suddenly. "I have seen his name countless times in the big magazines. He is a famous writer."

"I'm glad; he deserves all the success he has won."

"Do you know that he is in Merriamville?"

She started.

"What, in this town?"

"Yes, he has been here for the past six months."

"And you know him?" she demanded.

"Yes," he answered slowly. "I know him well as I know myself."

The light of a sudden recognition came to her.

"Oh," she said, "you are—"

"Yes," he answered slowly, "I am Arthur Howell."

"And why—why did you come here?" Her breast rose and fell quickly; tears bordered her eyes.

"I came to take you away, dear, to a home I have waiting for you in the West. Will you go?"

"Yes," she answered softly. "I'll do anything in the world you want me to."

MARCH BLIZZARD PREVAILED

Heavy Snow Fall and Mercury Drops to Ten Above Zero.

A blizzard raged throughout this section Sunday and snow fell to the depth of about four inches on a level. On account of the high wind the snow drifted badly, measuring two feet in some places. The thermometer registered ten degrees above zero yesterday morning, but it turned much warmer by noon and much of the snow had disappeared before night. The forecast for today is fair with rising temperature.

"Diamond Jim" Dying.

"Diamond Jim" Brady, the most bejeweled man on earth, is dying in New York.

Bra'y's success in business was a sensation and his income enormous. In the course of time he became president of the largest railway supply house in the world and a director in many corporations.

He was a great man for entertaining. He spent tens of thousands of dollars each year in a few restaurants along Broadway. When he traveled he usually took a lot of persons with him in his private car. He was an inveterate first-nighter, and no one in America probably has spent more money on the theatre than has "Diamond Jim." In the days when there was racing around New York he maintained a stable of thoroughbreds and was a constant visitor to the race tracks. He liked a prize fight and seldom missed a bout between fist men. He backed more than one who needed capital.

Brady's friends tell a thousand stories about the peculiarities, habits and doings of this man, whose life has had as many facets as one of his own blue-white diamonds. Some have found their way into print; others haven't. His jewels, that have given to him his Broadway name, are celebrated the world over. Mr. Brady collected not diamonds alone.

He had a passion for all sorts of precious stones. He used them to vary the decorations of his evening dress. One night he would wear studs, cuff buttons and waistcoat buttons of diamonds. Another night he would display rubies. Perhaps the next time he would be a glitter with splendid emeralds. He buttoned his shirts with diamonds. His suspender buckles glittered with the finest white stones. He had walking sticks set with diamonds. He carried a watch worth $10,000. In the handle of one of his umbrellas was a jewel worth $1,500. His garter clasps and even his underwear were ornamented with gems.

His wardrobe was a magnificent one, and it is doubtful if Mr. Brady himself knew how many suits of clothes for various wears he possessed. He frequently changed his

The Giant Snowball

By FLORENCE LILLIAN HENDERSON

(Copyright, 1917, by W. G. Chapman)

Regularly once a year Jed Bursey "celebrated," and that was upon his birthday. He did it in what he considered to be a quite respectable way. He lived at Bowesville, but it was at Milton that he went through his annual program.

Asternous and walking a straight chalk line for three hundred and sixty-four days of the year, upon the other about dusk Jed presented himself at the tavern at Milton, and hired the little card room at the rear of the bar for the exclusive use of himself and his friends. These friends were never the same on succeeding occasions. Jed simply picked up half-a-dozen of the loungers about the place, and, with a table supplied fully with edibles and drinkables, locked all hands in the room with himself and proceeded to celebrate.

The little party of convivialists were given their fill of cigars, entwines and flowing bowls. Except for the latter, it was only a mildly dissipated group. It was an occasion for Jed to spread himself and he about monopolized the function. Ordinarily Jed was a mild-mannered, composed young man, never boisterous, always reliable in a business way. On the occasion of his birthday festivity he vividly recalled two points in his life and let loose on them. Once he had been appointed the local orator in a mild political campaign. He believed he had found his mission until a rival expert in the same line squelched him completely, both as to argument and eloquence.

Later, in a sneaking sort of a way, Jed did some amateur dramatic work with a stalled tragedy company. It proved a dismal failure, but the tact of this histronic effort never quite left him.

So, shut up in a little tavern room with an obliging audience, Jed detailed his past glories as orator and actor. He recited all of his former speeches, he spouted half of Hamlet to bring up the several fine lines he had spoken on the stage. Faultily at midnight the drowsy conclave broke up. Jed went to bed and reappeared in his home town the next day, with a slight headache, but fully satisfied to pursue the straight and narrow road until another twenty-first of February had rolled around.

Now Jed had become quite an important and trustworthy person about Bowesville. He did a little real estate business and a good deal in the way of mortgage loans and collections. He went to aid friends to several towns in the district, acting as a sort of special messenger for the banks. On the especial birthday occasion where he met his Waterloo, he had transacted considerable business that day and its results crowded a time-worn wallet in an inner coat pocket.

Jed went through his regular program, political and histronic, but somehow the occasion was dull. It was growing so monotonous and by ten o'clock his guests were tired to repetition and began to depart one by one, and, although Jed was nautred in his talk, Jed decided not to remain at the tavern all night, as was his wont on these birthday occasions, but to walk home to Bowesville, seven miles distant.

He paid the bill, took a parting drink and started on his lonely way. There had been a deep snow, but the roads were broken by teams, and with a few upsets Jed got started on his way.

"It's the last one that did it," soliloquized the dizzled wayfarer. "Need the bracing air to clear away the fog."

As he neared his home village Jed was conscious that his wits were still clouded and his limbs somewhat wobbly. The direct road was level, but he paused suddenly. Late as the hour was there was light in a house at the bottom of a steep hill incl-

the west. Jed knew the house well. It belonged to old Gideon Lang, and he had a daughter, Mirabelle. "I wouldn't have the Langs see me in this plight for money," mumbled Jed. "I'll not pass the house, for fear of it. I'll climb the hill and cut around into town that way."

The weather was pretty cold, but Jed had puffed along and stumbled along until he was perspiring freely. Half way up the hill he took off his coat, rolled to the apex of the hill and slowly made his way home by a round-about route.

Jed did not get up the next morning. He had a bad headache and was weak and torporous. The thought of hustiness even failed to arouse him. It was full dusk before he summoned up the courage and strength to get up and dress himself. It was to make a blood-curdling, a crushing discovery—his wallet was gone!

Had someone come into the room while he slept and stolen it? No, doors and windows Jed found securely locked. Had he been robbed at Milton? No, he distinctly remembered having looked to its safety as he left the tavern, buttoning up his coat tightly.

Abruptly the memory returned to Jed of having carried his coat over his arm in climbing the hill. In feverish haste he decided to retrace his course of the night previous. When he got to the head of the hill he found it all tracked up, and on the apex an immense snowball the boys had rolled that day, using it as a shelter fort against adversaries storming it from below.

"It's no use!" grumbled Jed. "If I dropped the wallet here, it's either tramped under the snow or found and appropriated," but he started down the hill. He was intent on looking all along the course in the snow, and not until a swish warned him did he turn and run. At the top of the hill were scurrying boyish forms. Coming towards him, gaining momentum each succeeding moment, was the giant snowball.

Jed started to run. A light in the Lang home was his guide. He nearly reached it when something struck him. It was the snowball. It knocked him down and passed over him and he lay senseless. The great white sphere then crashed through the fence of the Lang yard, demolished a trellis, some of the splinters of which broke some windows in the house, and came to a halt against the front of the house.

When Jed Bursey opened his eyes again he found himself in bed in the Lang home with a broken leg, which a doctor, hastily summoned, had just set. Flitting about the room, a willing nurse, was fair Mirabelle. Despite all of his troubles Jed experienced a certain blissful sense of dependency and comfort. He had always had a sneaking fondness for Mirabelle but had never been able to summon up the courage to confess it to her.

The doctor delivered the dictum that Jed was not to be moved for a week. The one worry on Jed's mind was the loss of the wallet. He found a charming confidante in Mirabelle. In fact, before two days had passed by he had confessed all his shortcomings, including the annual birthday celebration.

Mirabelle and her father started a thorough quest for the lost wallet, but with no results. This meant a loss of several hundred dollars in actual cash for Jed. What was most important, however, was the notes, deeds and the like, the loss of which might later lead to troublesome legal complications.

"Guess," spoke Mirabelle, coming into the room where the convalescent sat, her hands hiding something behind her, and, then she held before the amazed and delighted eye of her patient the missing wallet.

"What do you think?" cried Mirabelle gleefully. "I found it where the great snowball had met. You see, the boys who rolled it must have gathered it up in the snow without noticing it."

Jed clasped and held the hand proferring the precious wallet in a fervor of courage and love.

"Mirabelle," he said, "it's up to me to build you a new trellis."

Then, drawing her still nearer, he added:

"And I'll build you a new house, if you'll share it with me."

"And what about those dangerous 'celebrations' of yours?" intimated Mirabelle archly.

"There will be only one after this," pledged Jed. "Our wedding day, with nothing stronger than lemonade."

Misunderstanding.

They stood beneath the stars, silent as the heartbeats of the night, looking into the diamond-studded shirtfront of the sky.

"Is it Mars?" he whispered as he slipped his arm around herimer waist and gazed upon a glittering orb in the distant blue.

"No, it isn't," she exclaimed, jerking away. "It's mine, and if you can't tell the difference between my waist and mother's after eight years' courtship—well, we'd better part!"—Pearson's Weekly.

These two fine boys have a "Little Bodyguard" to protect them against sudden attacks of croup or cold trouble. Their mother Mrs. C. C. Evinger, 1224 N. 6th St., Terre Haute, Ind., writes—

"I have tried your Vick's VapoRub on my two boys (who are nineteen months and three and one-half years old respectively), and have found it very satisfactory when they had the croup. The first application helped to loosen the phlegm, making them rest more easily, and they were able to go to sleep. VapoRub also helped them when they had severe colds. I can recommend it to all mothers."

VICK'S VAPORUB SALVE

Women in Open Boats.

If the sensibilities of the reader have not become so dulled by the horrors of two years and a half of butchery, he cannot pursue the following, taken from the New York World, without a feeling of horror:

The manner in which two American women met their death after they were set adrift in one of the battered and waterlogged boats of the Laconia is told by the Rev. Father Sergeant, who was a passenger and who administered the last rites of the church to the German barbarism:

Mrs. Hoy died in the arms of her daughter. Her body slipped off into the sea out of her daughter's weakened arms. The heart-broken daughter succumbed a few minutes afterward and her body fell over the side of the boat as we were tossed by the huge waves.

In icy water up to her knees for two hours, the daughter all the time bravely supported her aged mother, uttering words of encouragement to her.

From the start both were violently seasick, which, coupled with the cold and exposure, gradually wore down their courage.

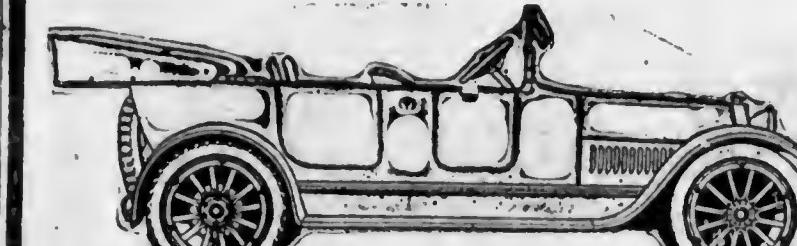

The preceding tragedies are thus described in the simple language of a brave priest.

The last to die in our boat was W. Irvine Robinson, of Toronto. After his body had been consigned to the sea we were tossed about for an hour, getting more and more water, until the gunwales were almost level with the sea. Then Mr. Ivatt, who was not physically strong, succumbed in the arms of his fiancee, who was close beside him, trying in vain to keep him warm by throwing her wealth of hair about his neck. Even after he died she refused to give him up, and although the additional weight made the situation more dangerous for us all, we yielded to her pitiful pleading and allowed her to keep the body.

This is the fate that hangs over every American citizen who crosses the Atlantic, regardless of age or sex. It is the death to which the German government has formally and officially condemned every American who ventures upon the ocean, whether the ship in which he sails is an enemy or neutral, whether it flies the British flag or the American flag. It is the most monstrous doctrine of the sea that was ever proclaimed by a nation that called itself civilized.

Boys of another day, interfered with in their sport on the Boston commons by British soldiers made gallant protest to the British commander. Because of unjust taxation an immortal tea party was held in the port of Boston. We cannot imagine what the people of America today have lost altogether the qualities that distinguished them a century and a half ago.—Evansville Courier.

PREPARING FOWL FOR TABLE

Rules It Will Be Well to Observe in the Operation of "Plucking" Biddy Before Cooking.

The fowl being carefully plucked and singed must next be drawn. To do this cut off the head, leaving about four inches of the neck, slit the skin down the back of the neck and loosen it completely all around. Separate the gullet and follow it with the fingers, passing them all around where it enters the body, so as to loosen the crop, which can then be pulled out whole with its contents, merely by laying hold of the gullet with a cloth to prevent it from slipping. Then cut the neck off quite close to the body, tearing the flap of skin on. With the point of a sharp knife make a short crossway slit, just beneath the tail of the bird, taking care in doing so, however, not to wound the intestines. Into this slit put one finger as far as it will go, and pass it round close to the breastbone and backbone, so as to break through the attachments which hold the internal organs in place. Enlarge the hole then, if necessary, enough to admit two fingers, and between these lay hold of the gizzard, the large hard mass which will usually be found lying just beneath the point of the breastbone. Draw this out first, and then, by pulling gently but firmly, all the rest will follow together, after which the body should be washed or wiped out.—Modern Priscilla.

SWEET DISH ALL WILL LIKE

Strawberry Ice Comparatively Inexpensive and One of the Most Delicious Dessert Confections.

A most inexpensive strawberry ice may be made by boiling two cupfuls of sugar with a half a cupful of hot water for three minutes. Cool and add a box of berries, crushed, and the juice of a lemon. Then add a cupful of ice water and partially freeze. Stir in the stiffly beaten white of one egg and finish freezing.

Tiny sponge cakes lewd with strawberry juice and confectioner's sugar are delicious to serve with this ice, or a big layer cake, frosted with white and decorated with a wreath of roses made from candied rose leaves and citron, with yellow candies for centers. Or the ice may be made from grape juice and the little cakes decorated with candied violets. Strawberries dipped in pink fondant and served in little paper cases are very pretty.—People's Home Journal.

Mock Chicken Omelet.

One slice of roast veal or roast pork will do, cut up in tiny pieces. One or two slices of onion as thin as a wafer, cut up very fine, put in frying pan with one teaspoonful butter after it is melted. Pour over one well-beaten egg with one teaspoonful (scant) flour, a little salt and pepper and four tablespoonsfuls of milk mixed with it, and cook slowly until egg is all cooked. Delicious on toast.

Cheese Scallops.

Soak one cupful of bread crumbs from the center of a stale loaf of bread in one pint of milk. Add two well-beaten eggs, three tablespoonsfuls of melted butter, one-half teaspoonful each of salt and paprika, a dash of cayenne and three-quarters of a cupful of grated cheese. Butter some scallop shells, fill with the mixture and bake in a hot oven until firm. Serve at once.

Good Supper Dish.

Here is a good supper dish. Cook one pint tomatoes and a small onion. When done, strain. Blend two tablespoonsfuls of flour and two of butter, salt and pepper to taste, and add to tomatoes. Mix together one cupful chopped lamb, beef, veal or chicken and one cupful boiled rice. Put all the ingredients in buttered baking dish, cover with crumbs and bake until brown.

Chocolate Jelly.

Three cupfuls of milk, one and one-half tablespoonsfuls of gelatin; one and one-half squares of chocolate, one-half cupful sugar. Soak the gelatin in one-half cupful of the milk, add chocolate and sugar to the two and one-half cupfuls of milk and scald, then add gelatin dissolved in the half cupful of milk. Strain into individual molds through cloth or fine sieve. Serve with cream.

Odd Refreshment.

Here is something odd in the way of refreshments. Now this may not appeal to you, but I wanted to send my wife. Core and pare an apple, bake the apple not to be mushy, but cooked through tender. When the apple is cool fill the center with mincemeat, then put a little whipped cream on top. It is delicious. Try it.

When Warming Cereals.

Instead of warming cereals in the oven, fill a large corn popper full of flakes and toss it lightly over the heat from the stove. Besides being quicker, there is no possibility of scorching, as is the case when the oven is used.

Water Bottle Cover.

A hot water bag often proves to be the friend in need, and if possible one should provide a suitable dress for it. One seen recently was made of white flannel embroidered with a simple wreath in pink and green.

When Shaking Rugs.

When shaking rugs grasp the sides; in this way the fringe is protected and the ends do not ravel.

DESSERT TO TEMPT INVALID

Baked Milk With Stewed or Fresh Fruit Is Appetizing and Can Do No Harm.

A perfectly innocuous dessert for the most delicate of patients is provided by baked milk, and it makes a very pleasant accompaniment for stewed or fresh fruit. It is very simply prepared, as the milk is merely put into an earthenware jar, covered tightly and allowed to bake in a very slow oven for several hours, until it is of the consistency of very thick cream. The main attraction about that recipe is its harmlessness, but a really delicate and nutritious pudding can be made from the following:

Rice Flour Pudding.—One-half pint milk, two tablespoonsfuls cream, one ounce butter, one ounce rice flour, whites of two eggs, flavoring, one tablespoonful sugar. Put the milk, butter and sugar into a saucepan and bring just to the boiling point; mix the rice, flour and cream well together and stir into the boiling milk; draw to one side to cool and heat the whites of egg to a stiff froth, then add them to the rest, folding them carefully in so as not to break down their fluffiness. Pour into a fireproof dish and bake in a quick oven until a light golden brown.

Could Not Write.

Versailles, Ky.—Mrs. Elisha Green of this place, says: "I could not write all the different pains I had, when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it. Try Cardui for your troubles. Separation.

We should make more haste to right our Neighbor than we do to wrong him, and instead of helping vindictive we should leave him to be judge of his own satisfaction. True Honor will pay treble damages rather than justice one wrong by another. In such controversies, it is but too common to say, Both are to blame, to excuse their own Unconcernedness, which is a base Neutralty. Others will cry. They are both alike; thereby involving the injured with the guilty, to mislead the Master for the Faulty, or cover their own injustice to the wronged Party. Fear and gain are great Perverters of Mankind, and where either prevail, the judgment is violated.—William Penn.

Spring Colds Are Dangerous

Sudden change of temperature and underwear brings spring colds with stuffed up head, sore throat and general cold symptoms. A dose of Dr. King's New Discovery is sure relief, this happy combination of antiseptic balsams clears the head, soothes the irritated membranes and what might have been a lingering cold is broken up. Don't stop treatment when relief is first felt as a half cured cold is dangerous. Take Dr. King's New Discovery till your cold is gone.—Advertisement.

Out of the Mouths of Babes.

John Edward and his mother had been invited out to dinner. The hostess was fortunate in having a great many things that little folk like—chicken, pie and so on. The meal was progressing merrily. Conversation had lagged for a minute, and John Edward expressed his satisfaction thus: "Well, mother, we're fortunate in one thing. All the folks we know are good cooks."

MAKES MOST TASTY OMELET

Prepared With Kidneys It Is "Something Different" From the Usual Run of Egg Mixtures.

Melt two tablespoonsfuls of bacon drippings in a frying pan; add two lambs' kidneys that have been cut into dice and toss them about in the hot dripping for three minutes. Then add sufficient thick brown sauce to moisten, and season with a pinch of paprika and one tablespoonful of Worcester sauce. Prepare an ordinary omelet from the yolks of four eggs beaten with a little salt, pepper and four tablespoonsfuls of water, and when very light fold in the stiffly whipped egg whites. Turn into an omelet pan in which has been melted one tablespoonful of butter and cook very slowly until well risen. Then spread with the kidney mixture, sprinkle with chopped parsley, and turn over, after loosening the sides, into a neat half circle. Tip the pan gently, so that the interior of the omelet may cook through and serve inverted on a hot platter.

Pan Dowdy.

Pare and quarter enough sour, juicy apples to nearly fill an earthen baking dish, add to the apples half a cupful of hot water and nearly a cupful of molasses. For crust use one quart of flour, one teaspoonful soda, two teaspoonsful cream of tartar, one teaspoonful salt, half a cupful creamed butter, one pint rich, sweet milk. Mix soda, cream of tartar and salt well into dry flour, work the creamed butter into the prepared flour till fine and yellow. Add milk to this mixture and mold to a delicate dough. Roll it out an inch thick and fit closely over the apples. Bake in a moderate oven as long as the crust will allow. When done, while warm, break the crust into pieces and mix through the apples; serve with cream or milk.

Retribution Sure.

Those folks who like to gossip are sure also to be made the subject of gossip. When a fellow lies about others he's sure to have the truth told about himself.

THE KENTUCKIAN FOR 1917

EVER since the year 1868, the HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN has been published under one name or another. In 1879 the present name was given and the present management took charge of the paper, which is now in its 39th volume. For almost 40 years it has been a faithful exponent of the growth and development of the city and county. It has written in its files a history of the county covering that long period. It has recorded the birth of three generations in some instances. It has seen the small town develop into a prosperous city with its people ever looking forward to greater things.

During all these years it has had a loyal and constant patronage from the best people of the county. It has many subscribers whose names have not been off its subscription lists in 39 years. In many other families, sons have taken their father's places. We would be ungrateful not to appreciate support like this, but we have never come to the reading public with a stronger appeal for patronage than this year. Conditions have greatly changed and paper stock is three times as high as a year ago.

Many newspapers have advanced rates but in order that the circulation may not be lessened by a higher price the KENTUCKIAN will still be sent for $2.00 a year, the old price. It will be necessary though to adhere rigidly to the cash system, since more than $1.00 must be paid in advance for the paper upon which we print 156 papers and the cost of printing leaves but little profit out of the second dollar. We are asking our old subscribers to stand by us in this crisis by renewing promptly.

All papers not paid for will be stopped.
Don't let yours stop.

The Price Will be the same $2.00 a Year
as heretofore,

WILSON'S HANDS TIED

Old Laws Discovered Which Make It Impossible To Act On Submarines.

STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT

Will Call Special Session as Soon as Senate Acts to Prevent Future Filibusters.

Washington, Mar. 5.—President Wilson last night informed the country in a statement, that he may be without power to arm merchant ships and take other steps to meet the German submarine menace in the absence of authority from congress.

An extra session of congress, the president says, is required to clothe him with authority but it is useless to call one while the senate works under the present rules which permit a small minority to keep an overwhelming majority from acting.

The president proposes therefore that the special session of the senate, which he has called to meet tomorrow, revise the rules to "supply the means of action" and save the country from disaster.

More than five hundred of the five hundred and thirty-one members of the two houses were ready and anxious to act and the house representatives had acted by an overwhelming majority; but the senate was unable to act because a little group of eleven senators had determined it should not. The senate has no rules by which debate can be limited or brought to an end; no rules by which dilatory tactics of any kind can be prevented. A single member can stand in the way of action if he has but the physical endurance. The result in this case is a complete paralysis alike of the legislation and of the executive branches of the government.

This inability of the senate to act has rendered some of the most necessary legislation of the session impossible at a time when the need for it was most pressing and most evident."

Mothers Who Die.

More women 15 to 45 years of age die in the United States from conditions incident to maternity than from any other cause except tuberculosis. And since 1900, while the death rate from tuberculosis, typhoid, diphtheria and croup, and certain other preventable diseases have been greatly reduced, the available figures for the death-registration area show no decrease in the proportion of mothers whose lives are sacrificed, 15,000 yearly to ignorance and improper care in child-birth.

MANY WORDS OF PRAISE

Were Spoken At The Community Reception at Methodist Church.

WEATHER WAS INCLEMENT

But Large Crowds Attended All of the Services of the Opening Day.

The new Methodist Church was occupied for the first time Sunday. The morning services opened with Sunday School and concluded with a sermon by the pastor, Dr. Lewis Powell.

The regular evening service was held with the pulpit occupied by the pastor's son, Rev. Paul Powell, of Greenville, one of the most brilliant young ministers of his denomination in the State. As had been announced, a Community Reception was held at 3 o'clock p. m. The auditorium with its seating capacity of 1,350 was nearly filled in spite of a blizzard that raged all of the afternoon. The program, interspersed with music, was carried out with one or two changes.

Mr. Nat Gaither, of the Episcopal church, was absent but Dr. Abbott took his place. Dr. Lewis Powell presided and the speakers all occupied seats on the platform and after some excellent music the following program was carried out:

Invocation—Rev. A. S. Anderson, Westminster Presbyterian church.

Formal turning over the church by Forbes Mfg. Co.—Geo. E. Gary.

Accepting same for the congregation and welcome to community—R. E. Cooper.

Recognition of the new plant as an asset of the city—Dr. Frank Bassett.

Appreciation of city press—Chas. M. Mencham.

Greetings from the various churches of the city:

Baptist church—T. C. Underwood.

Episcopal church—Rev. Geo. C. Abbott.

Christian church—A. H. Eckles.

Cumb. Pres.—John F. Danforth.

First Pres.—James West.

Salvation Army—Envoy Vallier.

Universalist—Judge Polk Cansler.

Westminster—Judge W. T. Fowler.

Greetings from the Hebrew friends—M. L. Elb.

Benediction—Rev. F. F. Walters, of the Christian church.

The speeches were all in a spirit of brotherly love and each speaker congratulated the congregation on its splendid edifice.

Mr. Gary called attention to the fact that the church was in most respects modeled after the great cathedral at Rheims.

The proposed road bond election in Caldwell county will not be held this month as had been understood. The petition asking for the election was dismissed by County Smith at Princeton for the reason it did not contain the signatures of the required number of free-holders. Deer Coming.

The deer to be placed by the State Game Commission on the property of the Hillman Land & Iron Company between the rivers in Trigg and other adjoining counties, will probably arrive about the first of April. Mr. W.
